General Election Registration Deadline Tomorrow

(Columbus) The Franklin County Board of Elections reminds voters tomorrow, Tuesday, Oct. 9, is the deadline to register for the Nov. 6, 2012 general election.

Franklin County's early vote center, located at 1700 Morse Road, Columbus, will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. for both registration and in-person absentee voting. The board of elections, located at 280 East Broad Street, Columbus, also will be open until 9:00 p.m., but for registration only.

Registration forms are available on the board's Web site <http://vote.franklincountyohio.gov> and at the following locations where they can be filled out and dropped off:

- The Secretary of State's office
- Any public high school, vocational school or college
- Agencies providing public assistance or disability programs
- Public Libraries
- Franklin County Treasurer's office.

Voters who have changed their name or address may need to update their registration by tomorrow's deadline in order to vote a regular ballot in the general election. Voters may do so when they register in person or online at www.MyOhioVote.com.

Registration is open to those U.S. citizens who are living in Franklin County thirty days before the election and will be at least 18 years old by Election Day. More than 796,000 voters are registered in Franklin County for the general election.
